

Thinking about a career in teaching?

The East Kent Learning Alliance (EKLA) is a partnership of schools committed to training and employing outstanding teachers in local primary and secondary schools.

In partnership with Canterbury Christ Church University we deliver a rich training programme called School Direct. This is a school based post graduate route into the teaching profession. Successful applicants will learn alongside outstanding teachers. Our programme is individually tailored to provide a stimulating learning experience. As a trainee you will receive the support of a school mentor who will guide you through your training.

Please visit www.ekla.org.uk for the School Direct eligibility criteria and details of the two training routes available to you. Details of local primary and secondary schools with places available through EKLA, can be found on our website.
